The agreed work was subject to the following terms and conditions:

Activity of an independent character

The contractor certifies that (s)he is not employed at and has not been commissioned by another university / company, but rather has carried out the assignment as an independent entity (subject to a service contract). The guest lecture held has not exceeded one academic teaching unit per week and semester. The contractor certifies that her/his proceeds from this assignment are to be regarded as discretionary income.

Venue

The venue of the activity has been the University of Vienna, unless otherwise required by the object of the contractual services. With regard to other activities implied by the contract (preparation and follow-up work, etc.), the contractor has not been bound by any obligation in terms of venue.

Performance

With the exception of pre-determined lecture times, the contractor has not been bound in the provision of her / his service by any constraints with regard to sequence and / or work schedule. (S)he has delivered her/his lecture as agreed with the supervisor of the organisational unit. Her / His actual activity has not been subject to any type of instructions or monitoring in terms of content and conceptional structure.

Working equipment and materials

Essentially, all working materials were to be provided by the contractor. When required for the provision of the contracted lectures, general working equipment (rooms, hardware) was made available by the University. All expenditures related to the provision of working equipment and materials are to be borne by the contractor.

Substitution by third parties

The contract stipulated for the contractor to discharge her / his contractual obligations personally. The contractor was entitled to availing herself / himself of substitution by a qualified third party in exceptional cases. The University was to be promptly advised with regard to the occurrence of substitutions. The contractor was entitled to selecting her / his substitute after consultation with the University. No legal relationship ensues between the University and the substituting third party.

Applicable law

The contractor is herewith advised that the contract at hand is no employment contract; thus, this service contract does not fall under the incidence of Labour Law (holiday, sickness benefits, special payments, severance pay, etc.). Should this contractual relationship be qualified as an employment contract by Austrian courts of law, the contractor states explicitly that each and all claims pursuant from this contract beyond the remuneration, as specified by Labour Law, are satisfied by payment of said remuneration.

Social security, income tax liability and obligation of disclosure of the contractor

The fee includes all applicable taxes, charges and contributions. The contractor shall bear the sole responsibility of all relevant notifications and declarations. In accordance with § 99 EStG [Income Tax Law], the University of Vienna undertakes solely to withhold and pay withholding tax, as well as value added tax (if applicable). Should the contractor be employed under public law as a civil servant, her / his remuneration shall be transferred as ancillary income to her / his regular (main) place of employment (§ 240a BDG [Public Sector Employment Law]).

Scientists from Austria and from abroad who are not employees of the University of Vienna¹ and are not incorporated as legal entities² use the “Invoicing Form for Guest Lectures and Scientific Activities (FIN / K2)” to invoice the University for one of the following, or similar, activities:

- Guest lecture

- Scientific (advisory) discussion
- Scientific research

- Membership in an appointment committee

This form shall not be used for service contracts!

The following items can be invoiced:

- Reimbursement of travelling costs (with original receipts)
- Reimbursement of accommodation costs (with original receipts)
- or
- Blanket compensation for accommodation costs (max. € 70 per day, for a max. of 14 days)

In the case of travelling and accommodation cost refund, as in the case of blanket compensation for these costs, the item shall be booked at cost category 735000 – travelling and accommodation costs – external.

If, besides her / his travelling and accommodation costs, the scientist also invoices her / his fees, or if the scientist only invoices her / his fees, said costs shall be booked as follows:

- For residents of Austria: cost category 673300 – guest lecturer resident FI
- For non-residents: cost category 673310 – guest lecturer non-resident FI

Payment of travelling and accommodation costs, as well as payment of fees shall be fully debited from the budget for material and personnel costs of the organisation.

Should the scientist be incorporated as a legal entity² and work for the University of Vienna as a scientific advisor (expert opinion, discussion, etc.) or in research, 20% VAT shall be added to both the blanket compensation for accommodation costs and to the fees invoiced; VAT shall be debited from the budget for material and personnel costs as well.

If the “Invoicing Form for Guest Lectures and Scientific Activities (FIN / K2)” is duly filled out and signed by the scientist, the University of Vienna is not any longer under the obligation to withhold and pay income tax for the work performed by the scientist. In the rare cases when the double taxation agreement (DTA) between the Republic of Austria and the host country stipulates the obligation of taxation by withholding in Austria (currently Malaysia, Pakistan, Thailand and Turkey), respectively if there is no DTA in effect between the Republic of Austria and the state of residence, or if the form is not filled out appropriately, then the income tax shall be debited from the budget for material and personnel costs of the organisational unit, as well.

Separate payment of travelling and accommodation costs on the one hand, and fees on the other hand, to one and the same claimant does not exempt said claimant from the fiscal obligation of building a total basis of assessment covering both her / his travelling and accommodation costs and her / his fees.
